1. In consideration of the Press agreeing to publish the Publication the Author hereby grants to the Press the exclusive right to first publication of the Publication without claim of royalties or other compensation. This exclusive right to first publication includes the right to reproduce and/or distribute the content of the Publication throughout the world in printed, electronic or other medium, including the right to authorise others (including Reproduction Rights Organisations such as the Copyright Licensing Agency and Copyright Clearance Center) to do the same.
2. The Editorial Board and the Press are empowered to outline editorial changes as may be necessary to make the Publication suitable for publication, and will consult the Author if changes are required that they consider, in their absolute discretion, to be substantive.
3. The Author hereby asserts his/her moral rights under the Copyright Designs and Patents Act 1988 to be identified as the Author of the Publication.
4. The Author warrants that the content of the Publication is the Author's original work, has not been published before, and is not currently under consideration for publication elsewhere; and that the work contains no libellous or unlawful statements and that it in no way infringes the privacy or any other rights of third parties; and that the Author, as the owner of the copyright, is entitled to grant this licence. The Author further warrants that all statements in the Publication asserted as facts are true or based upon detailed research for accuracy and that the Publication does not contain any matter which would violate any applicable laws or regulations nor is in any manner unlawful.
5. If the Publication contains any material, including illustrations (photographs, tables or figures), which is the copyright of someone else, the Author warrants that he/she has obtained the necessary permission of the copyright holder and that the material is clearly identified and acknowledged within the text or caption and will supply evidence of such consent and/or permission promptly on request by the Press.
6. The Author retains copyright, and the Press will ensure that a suitable acknowledgement of the same appears in the copyright line on the imprint page of the Publication. The Press applies the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 Unported License (CC BY) to all published work, unless otherwise agreed. Under the CC BY, authors retain ownership of the copyright for their work, but authors allow anyone, including the publisher, unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original work is properly cited.

7. The Author shall indemnify the Press and keep the Press indemnified against all and any loss, liability, damages, costs or expenses (including legal expenses) that the Press suffers or incurs as a result or, or in connection with, any breach by the Author of any of the warranties in this Licence. At the request of the Press at at the Author's own expense, the Author shall provide all reasonable assistance to enable the Press to resist any claim, action or proceedings brought against the Press as a consequence of that breach.

9. No variation of this licence shall be effective unless it is in writing and signed by the parties (or their authorised representatives); and no person other than a party to this agreement shall have any rights to enforce any term of this licence.

LICENCE TO PUBLISH: Explanatory Notes

The policy of The University of Huddersfield Press is to uphold the highest standards of quality, maximizing current and future access, and ensuring preservation of articles it publishes. This licence is drawn up in the spirit of co-operation.

Your article will be published electronically and will also be stored electronically on the hosting platform used by the University of Huddersfield Press.

Under the UK's Copyright Designs and Patents Act 1988, the Author has the moral right to be identified as the author wherever the article is published, and to object to its derogatory treatment or distortion. The University of Huddersfield Press encourages assertion of this right, as it represents best publishing practice and is an important safeguard for all authors. Paragraph 4 asserts the Author's moral rights, as required by the Act.

If Authors use the article elsewhere after publication, the University of Huddersfield Press requests that acknowledgment is given to the book as the original source of publication.

The University of Huddersfield Press applies the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 Unported License (CC BY) to all published articles. Under the CC BY, authors retain ownership of the copyright for their article, but authors allow anyone unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original work is properly cited.

The Press uses a gold open access model, involving a book processing charge to cover the cost of production and allow the work to be published open access. Any revenue received by the Press from print book sales is reinvested into the Press to help fund future publications.
